Ohio, April 21.—The Hewitt field has been extended by the Carter oil company's well on the Woodcraft farm in section 14-46-1W. The well is making 150 barrels a day and is increasing its production as the drill goes deeper into the sand. The well extends to the south. There is considerable new activity in that section of the field.

The Kansas Petroleum company's No. 2 on the Prentice farm, Jennings county, is flowing approximately 1100 barrels daily. In the same district the No. 6 of the Prairie Oil and Gas company, which is located on the Jenks farm, is making 100 barrels after being deepened.

BIG GAS WELL IS CLOSED DOWN

Eastland, Texas, April 21.—The $200,000 foot gas well of the Occidental oil company which has been creating so much excitement in this territory has been closed down by order of the railroad commission at Austin. It required six days to shut the well.

The Lysteria No. 1 of the Arkansas Natural Gas company, three miles south of Eastland, which came in with an initial production of 15,000,000 feet of gas and several barrels of oil daily, caught fire a few days ago. The derrick was burned to the ground. This well was shut down by the railroad commission a few days after it was brought in.

OIL MEN ACTIVE ABOUT DENISON

Denison, Tex., April 21.—Oil developments continue active in and around Denison along the Preston anticline. Already the drill of the Wastover No. 1 well on the Hixley tract is 15 feet in the oil and gas sands encountered a few days ago. There is some water in the well. This is being shut off as quickly as possible. Drilling will be continued until the sand is passed through.

Standard tools are being used at the Hixley test east of the Preston anticline. Good progress has been made since the well was spudded only a short time ago. The well is now nearly 1000 feet deep.

Indications found thus far in the Bryan County Oil company's well north of Denison in Bryan county, Oklahoma, have been promising. The rock roller bit has been making rapid progress in the rock formation through which it is now passing. This company is buying up all available land in that district.

Rust of town the Preston anticline well is being forced forward rapidly. Day and night crews are at work.

Oil Report Made 10
Years Ago Amusing
to Operators Now

In light of recent happenings in the Paint Horse Tank and Lone Man mountain districts, a report made over 10 years ago by H. Vincent Wallace, oil and mining engineer, of El Paso, contains several statements of interest to one place Mr. Wallace stated: "It is probable that wells will cost from $200 to $300,000, including actual drilling, casing, delays owing to fishing, etc." The present cost would probably be almost four times as much.

Another statement to regard to the disposition of crude oil reads: "At a price of from $1 to $1.25 per barrel, this fuel (crude oil) would be in great demand by all classes of industry." Oil from the nearest well to the Lacy well is drilling around 2000 feet.

The report indicated the presence of oil basing his statement on the abundance of sulphur, gypsum, salt and dolomite found in this region. His statement reads: "Capt. Lucas, who is his explorations of the coastal plain seeking successively salt, sulphur and oil, had noticed the association of oil, sulphur, dolomite and salt, constituting collectively what might be termed the oil phenomenon, representing a group of secondary products, as distinguished from the mother strata, or sediments out of which they had been produced."

British Dealers Say
Food Prices Will Go
No Higher in England

London, Eng., April 21.—British food experts believe that prices have reached their pinnacle and that henceforth a slow and gradual decline will set in.

Reasons advanced by large wholesale houses are: First, mechanical transport and tractors are being more widely used in all food producing countries, thus adding vast acreage to food production that formerly grew food less than the world needs. Second, high European prices have stimulated production abroad and heavily increased harvests will soon be reaped. Third, the United States has shut down on food and other exports for most of Europe while the dollar is still at a premium, hence America's exportable surplus will have to come to England, which can import.

Britain's food crop is expected to be larger this year, owing to the plentifulness of labor.
